Description

FOMASPEED 312 Variant variable-contrast paper on a resin-coated paper base, with contrast ranging from ultra-hard to extra-soft. The paper is distinguished by wide contrast range, which makes possible to get good prints from negatives with extremely low or extremely high contrast. Each contrast grade has - in according to the variable-contrast papers of the latest generation - a slightly higher contrast than the papers of previous generation. By applying of polymers into the emulsion layer, higher planarity of the paper and higher maximal density is reached.
